EDUCATION STATISTICS 2004/2005

Education Statistics is an annual review of the educational performance in the Maltese Islands.

The ensuing commentary analyses this performance and reviews what developments and changes took place during the academic year 2004/2005. The main trends were:

- a) the continued downward trend in the number of children at the pre-primary (Isced 0) and primary (Isced 1) levels;
- b) the persistent decline in vocational education at secondary level (Isced 2) to the point that it no longer exists and the considerable rise in vocational education at post secondary level (Isced 3);
- c) a continuing growth in the university student population (Isced 5/6), both in the number of full time and part-time students.

Student population in formal education

The total student population (full-time & part-time) in formal education, decreased, from 90,358 students in 2003/2004 to 88,841 students during the year under review. This decrease of 1.68 per cent or 1,517 students reflects the decreases in student population registered at pre-primary and primary level, due to population decline.

Adult / Evening Education

The upward trend in enrolment in adult/evening education recorded in the last few years continued in 2004/2005. There was a substantial increase recorded at the School of Music up by 121 students and the School of Arts – up by 6 students, and on the whole all the other institutions, including those in the private sector, kept their popularity.

In the 50 private evening classes centres that answered to our questionnaire, another 9,805 students attended.

Pre-Primary

The total number of children receiving pre-school instruction stood at 8,551 in 2004/2005, down by 590 students or 6.5 per cent over the previous year. The downward trend in the past four years continued during the year under review. The drop in the number of children was recorded in both the government and private (church and non-church schools) kindergarten classes – down by 5.6 per cent and 7.7 per cent respectively.

Primary

The downward trend in the total number of pupils at primary level experienced since 1995/1996 prevailed also during the scholastic year 2004/2005. The number of pupils in Government primary schools stood at 18,435 while the number of pupils in private primary schools was 11,161.

Government primary schools recorded a drop of 3.8 per cent or 734 pupils over the previous year, and the private sector recorded a drop of 6.2 per cent or 734 pupils. The net decrease stood at 1,468 students or 4.7 per cent.

Secondary

The upward shift in the number of pupils receiving secondary education during the previous scholastic year was disrupted during 2004/2005. There was an overall decrease of 4.5 per cent or 1,336 pupils, which pushed the pupil population down from 29,540 in 2003/2004 to 28,204 in 2004/2005. Both the private sectors and the Government secondary schools recorded decreases in enrolments - down by 7.5 per cent (808 pupils) and by 2.8 per cent (528 pupils).

The ongoing process of reform in vocational education at secondary level has reflected once again a downfall in student numbers. Along the year under review, in fact, figures indicate that all Trade schools have joined MCAST and students are now starting their vocational training at a later stage.

Post Secondary

The number of students at post secondary (general) education in 2004/2005 increased by 363 students over the previous year reaching a total of 5,732 students. Junior College increased by 99 students whilst government higher secondary schools increased by 277 students. Only enrolment at church and non-church sixth forms showed a slight decrease of 13 students.

Post Secondary (contd.)

Full-time vocational education, on the other hand, catered for 4,142 students during the scholastic year 2004/2005. This signified a decrease of 173 students or 4.0 per cent over the previous year which stood at 4,315 students. This figure also includes 183 MCAST students who are enrolled in Matriculation Certificate Courses. Full-time courses at the Institute of Tourism Studies registered a slight decrease of 17 full-time students - from 544 in 2003/2004 to 527 in 2004/2005 whilst MCAST registered a decrease of 156 full-time students.

Part-time vocational education at post secondary level, on the other hand, registered an increase of 96 students or 3.5 per cent over the previous year. Both MCAST and ITS contributed towards this upward trend.

The University

There was an increase in student population at the university by 1,575 students or 19.8 per cent from 7,955 students to 9,530. Increases in student numbers were observed in both full-time students - up by 693 or 10.5 per cent and part-time students - up by 882 or 65.9 per cent. The main contributors to the increases in full-time courses were the Faculty of Arts which registered a increase of 211 students or 44.8 per cent over the previous year's total, the Faculty of Economics, Management and Accountancy where there was an increase of 394 students or 26.9 per cent and the Faculty of Education which registered an increase of 60 students or 6.7 per cent. On the other hand the main contributors to the increase in part-time courses were the Faculty of Education up by 247 students and the Faculty of Arts up by 101.

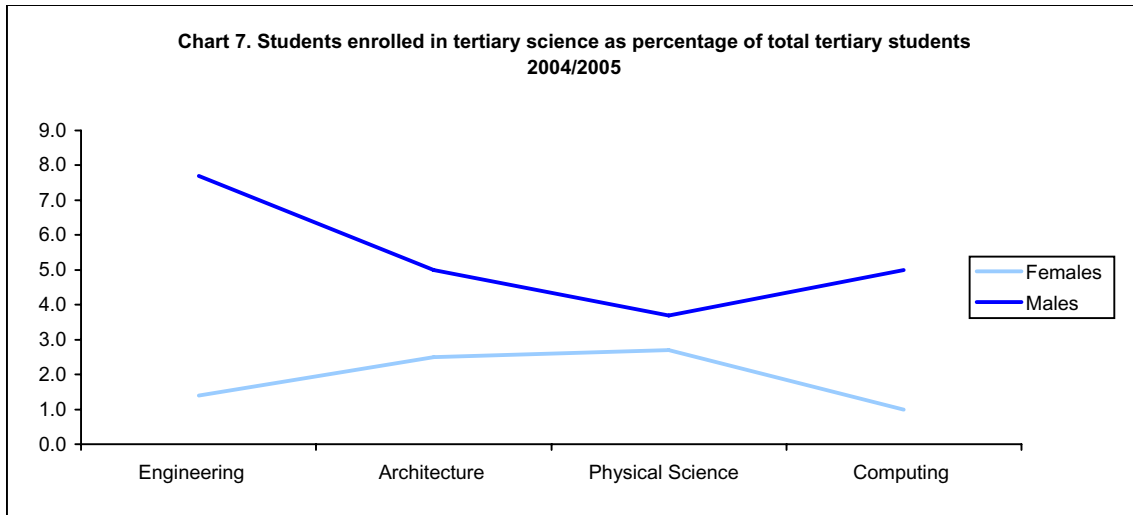

The overall female student component stood at 5,357 students, signifying an increase of 20.7 per cent or 917 students over the previous year's total female population and accounting for 56.2 per cent of the total number of university students. Female participation was the highest within the Faculty of Economics, Management and Accountancy with 1,274 females, the Faculty of Education with 1,059, the Faculty of Arts with 595, the Institute of Health Care with 581 and the Faculty of Laws with 494. The most popular faculties amongst males were again the Faculty of Economics, Management and Accountancy with 1,114 males, the Faculty of Education with 397, the Faculty of Laws with 334, and the Faculty of Engineering with 321.

The number of graduates during this academic year increased by 596 or 27.8 per cent over the previous year to reach 2,741; 60.6 per cent of the total were females. Highlights in the number of graduates were noted in the following faculties:

Teaching Staff

The upward trend in the total teaching staff recorded in the last ten years has continued in the year under review. The number of teachers in the public sector decreased by 119 or 1.8 per cent, while the number of teachers in private and church schools (excluding evening classes centres) retained the same number of 2,176 teachers. The public sector accounted for 72.1 per cent of the total teaching staff complement.

The engagement of part-time teaching staff within the public sector (including evening courses) indicates an increase of 26 teachers from 970 in 2003/2004 to 996 in 2004/2005, an increase of 2.7 per cent. On the other hand, the private sector (formal education only) appears to have relied more on part-timers. In fact, this sector indicated an increase of 42 teachers - from 184 in the previous scholastic year to 226 in 2004/2005.

66.4 per cent of the teaching staff complement was female; there were 5,997 female teachers, of whom 914 were part-timers. 4,115 of these female teachers were engaged in the public sector and 1,882 were engaged in the private sector. Also males accounted for less than females in both public and private schools even in part-time engagement, where males made up 41.5 per cent of the total part-timers.

The teacher-pupil ratio in government schools for pre-primary and primary decreased by 0.7 percentage points over the previous year and stood at 1:10.5. The teacher-pupil ratio for secondary (general) education including post-secondary, but excluding Junior College decreased by 0.2 percentage points to reach 7.7.

Looking at post-secondary vocational education, the teacher-pupil ratio stood as follows: at the Institute of Tourism Studies 1:13.1 and at the Malta College of Arts, Science and Technology 1:22.9.

Within church schools the teacher-pupil ratio for nursery schools stood at 1:16.3, that for primary schools stood at 1:14.7, and the ratio for secondary schools stood at 1:9.5. The teacher-pupil ratio amongst church nursery/primary schools stood at 1:16.6, for primary/secondary schools it stood at 1:9.4 and for church nursery/primary/secondary schools it stood at 1:12.8.

The teacher-pupil ratio for private independent nursery schools stood at 1:10.2, for private independent secondary schools 1:9.5, for private nursery/primary schools 1:17.3, for primary/secondary schools 1:10.5 and for private nursery/primary/secondary schools it stood at 1:11.8.

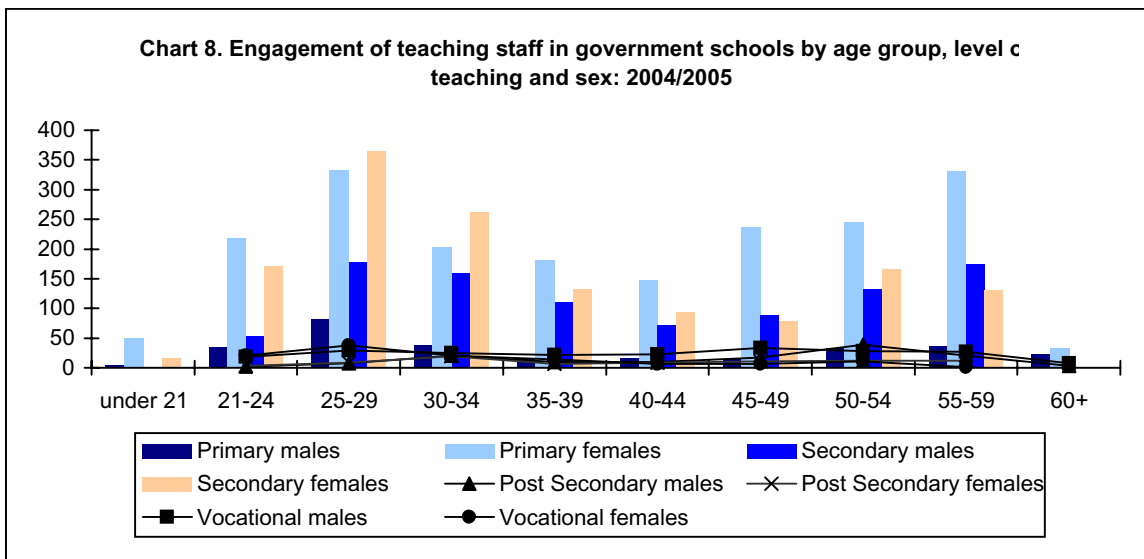

The following is a breakdown of the teacher/pupil ratios for church and non-church schools:

The University of the Third Age

The downward trend in participation at the University of the Third Age registered in the last three academic years continued also during 2004/2005. The total number of participants stood at 687, signifying a drop of 15 persons over the previous year. Female participation increased by 0.6 per cent to 507, while male participation decreased by 9.1 per cent to 180. The ratio of males to females stood at 1:2.8.

The Gozo branch of the University of the Third Age registered a slight increase over last year's figure. The increase occurred among females, up by 5 members to reach 32 female participants whilst participation for males decreased by 2 to reach 8 male members.

Once again the two age groups 65-69 years and 70-74 years retained the greater part of the members. The number of members in the first indicated age group stood at 166, while the number in the second age group stood at 162. However, the number of participants in both age-groups experienced a decrease in membership by 8.3 per cent and 9.0 per cent respectively. The 60-64 years age group registered an increase of 12.1 per cent in membership to 111, while the membership in the 75-79 years age group increased by 12 members to 144. At the extreme end of the scale, the 80 years and over age cohort decreased by 7.1 per cent over last year's membership and stood at 104 members.

The distribution of participants by district maintained the same pattern as in previous years - the Northern Harbour district with a total of 396 participants or 57.6 per cent represented the highest participation throughout the Maltese islands, followed by the South Harbour district with a total of 104 participants, the Western district with 80, Gozo with 40 and the Northern district with 36. The South Eastern district, with 31 participants, was the least represented district.

Sliema remained the leading locality within the districts, having the highest number of participants. Indeed participation from this locality accounted for 45.7 per cent of the total participants within the district and 26.4 per cent of the whole of Malta and Gozo.

Birkirkara was the second leading locality, accounting for 10.9 per cent of the total within the district and 6.3 per cent of the total for Malta and Gozo.

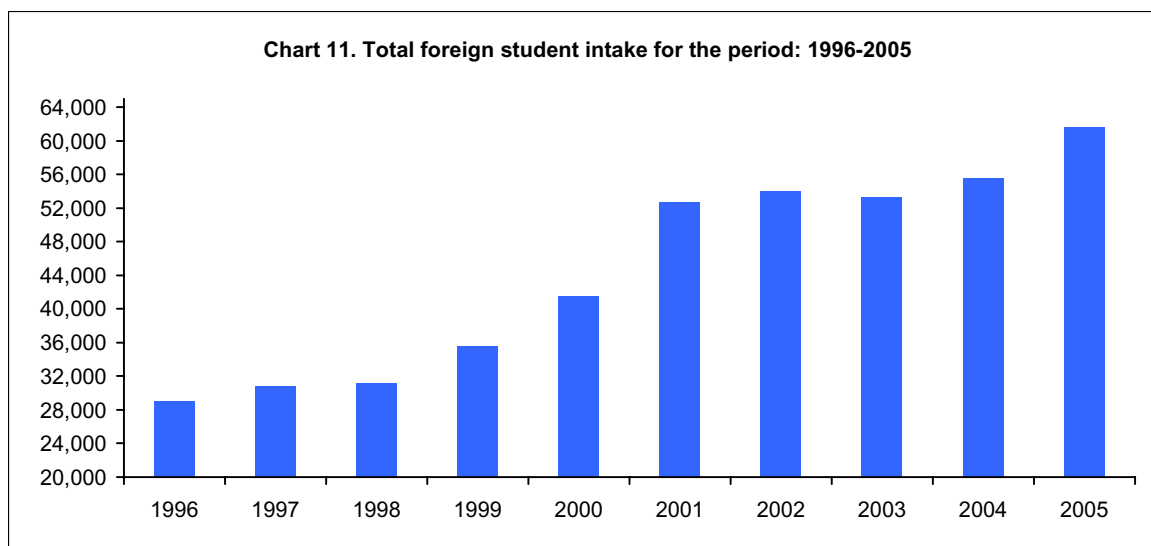

The largest proportion (42.9 per cent) of participants attending the University of the Third Age held a professional career prior to retirement. Such careers included medical doctors, health-related professionals and accountants/auditors, but the greater part were teaching professionals (including heads and assistant heads of schools). These accounted for 66.1 per cent of the professionals and 28.4 per cent of the total participation. Those not gainfully occupied, which included housewives and pensioners, accounted for 25.3 per cent of the participation. Some 11.7 per cent of the participants fell within the clerical group, while 6.0 per cent were civil servants (below the rank of directors/deputy directors, and other senior staff, but above that of clerks). 4.5 per cent were technicians and associate professionals, while 2.8 per cent were Legislators, Senior Officials and Managers. Some 2.8 per cent were in Service, Shop and Market Sales and another 1.0 per cent were in Craft and related Trades Work. Only 1.0 per cent were either in Armed Forces or Elementary Occupations. There were another 2.0 per cent or 14 participants who held another occupation not listed here, before retiring

English for foreign students

During 2005, 61,607 foreign students attended English language courses in one of the 39 English language schools that were in operation. This signified an increase of 6,029 students or 10.8 per cent over the previous year. Both males' and females' participation increased over 2004, yet females continued to maintain the majority with 56.6 per cent of all students.

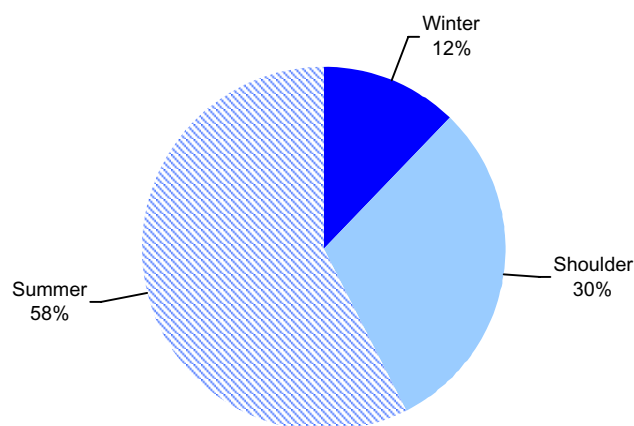

Students were classified under six age groups. As in previous years, the 16-17 age group had the highest number of students, namely 12,694 or 20.6 per cent. In 2005 the lowest number fell under the 26-30 year old age group with 7,118 students or 11.6 per cent. Also the age group '15 and under' showed a considerable increase of 2,644 students or 36.5 per cent over the previous year.

Once again, the highest number of students came from Germany amounting to 25.8 per cent of all students. Italy followed with 17.1 per cent, France with 13.0 per cent and Russia with 8.7 per cent. Austrian students also accounted for 7.6 per cent of all students. Whilst the popularity of students coming from such countries has been constant over the last years, there were also other increases in students coming from a number of other countries. In 2005 3,156 students came from Switzerland, 2,819 from Spain, 1,189 from Sweden, 1,129 from Czech Republic, 1,093 from Poland, 992 from Turkey, 950 from Japan, 639 from Hungary and 436 from China.

European students made up 94.1 per cent of all foreign English language students, with 71.9 per cent coming from E.U. countries, a decrease of 2.2 per cent over the previous year. Students from other European countries accounted for 22.2 per cent, as in 2004. Asia represented 4.5 per cent, Africa 0.84 per cent and America 0.4 per cent. 0.2 per cent of the students came from other countries. Interestingly, there were 43 students coming from English-speaking countries, namely from Canada and the United Kingdom.

Chart 12. Number of student weeks distributed by seasonal pattern: 2005

Foreign students accounted for 5.3 per cent of the total number of tourists visiting Malta during 2005, a slight increase of 0.4 per cent over 2004. Yet this percentage rose up to 9.4 per cent when calculated over the total number of tourists coming from non English-speaking countries only (English-speaking countries being Australia, Canada, the UK and the USA).

In 2005, the percentage of students over corresponding tourists from some countries was considerably high. For example, Slovak students accounted for 46.7 per cent of all tourists coming from Slovakia, Russian students accounted for 32.1 per cent of all tourists coming from Russia, Polish students accounted for 21.8 per cent of all tourists coming from Poland and Ukrainian students accounted for 21.1 per cent of all tourists coming from the Ukraine.

While the highest percentage of tourists, namely 44.0 per cent, visited Malta in the shoulder months, most students studying the English language arrived during the summer season. Students arriving in July, August and September accounted for 60.5 per cent of all students while 30.8 per cent of students came to Malta during the shoulder months, namely during March, April, May, June and October. Only 8.7 per cent of students attended English language courses during the winter season.

Despite having the highest population of students in summer, the longest duration of the students' period in Malta for the learning of English was in winter. This stood at 3.4 weeks per student, whilst in shoulder and in summer period the average number of students' weeks was 2.4 and 2.3 respectively. Male students stayed slightly longer than females in Malta, with an average number of 2.6 weeks. Females stayed for an average of 2.3 weeks.

Students between the age of 21-25 had the longest stay in Malta with an average duration of 3.1 weeks, whilst students aged 15 years and under and students aged 31 years and over had the shortest stay with an average duration of 1.9 weeks per student. Libyan students, with 8.8 weeks, were reported to have the highest number of weeks per student, whilst Austrians were reported to have the shortest stay with an average of 1.5 weeks per student.

The number of teaching staff in these schools amounted to 1,204 persons, a decrease of 96 persons or 7.4 per cent over the previous year. Most of these employees, 1,122 or 93.2 per cent, were engaged on part-time basis. Full-time teaching staff made up only 6.8 per cent of the labour complement within this sector. This showed also a decrease of 62 employees over last's year total of full-time staff. Women accounted for 75.2 per cent of the teaching staff employed by the English language schools.

School Absences

During the first 120 school days (between September 2004 and March 2005), a total of 534,292 school days were lost to absenteeism. This figure accounted for 7.7 per cent of the total number of school days in the reference period or an overall absence rate of 9.2 absent days per pupil - that for boys being 10.0 days per pupil (1.2 less than the previous year), and for girls 8.4 days per pupil (0.7 less than the previous year).

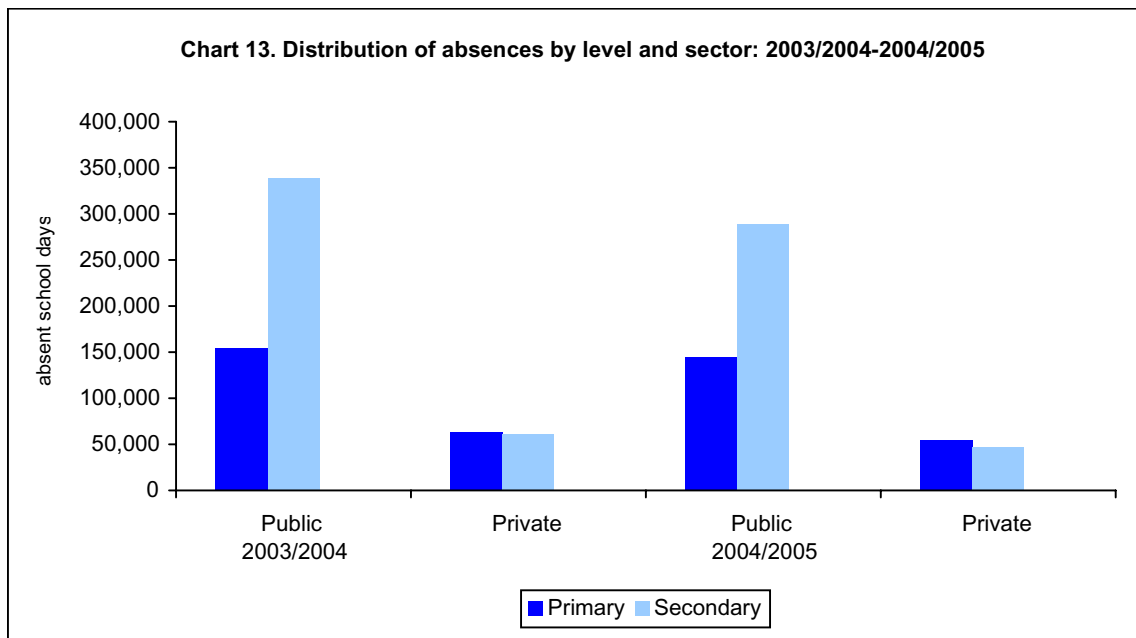

This also signified a decrease of 1.0 per cent of absences on the overall total number of school days taken per pupil over the previous year. This figure compares the 617,659 absent days for a pupil population of 60,603 in 2003/04, with 534,292 absent days for a pupil population of 57,800 in 2004/05. This decrease was the result of a slight decline in the number of absences – authorised and unauthorised – at the primary and secondary level both within public and private schools.

The overall unauthorised absence rate for boys in all primary and secondary schools was 4.7 days per pupil (a decrease of 0.4 over 2003/04) while the authorised absence rate stood at 5.4 (a decrease of 0.9 over 2003/04). The overall absence rates for girls stood as follows: 3.7 days per pupil for unauthorised absences (0.5 less than 2003/04) and 4.7 days per pupil for authorised absences (0.2 less than 2003/04).

Public primary schools registered a decrease of 0.1 absent days per pupil over the previous year, to 7.9 days per pupil during 2004/05 - 8.1 days per pupil for boys and 7.5 days per pupil for girls. The unauthorised absence rate for boys at public primary level stood at 3.2 days per pupil, whilst the authorised rate stood at 4.9 days per pupil. The unauthorised rate for girls stood at 2.9 days and the authorised at 4.6 days per pupil.

Similarly, private and church primary schools also registered a decrease of 0.3 absent days per pupil, over 2003/04. The overall absence rate for these schools stood at 5.0 absent days per pupil - 5.0 for boys and 4.9 for girls. The unauthorised absence rate for boys at private primary level stood at 0.5 days per pupil, whilst the authorised rate stood at 4.6 days per pupil. The unauthorised and authorised rates for girls stood at 0.5 and 4.4 respectively.

The registered decrease in the overall number of absent days per pupil prevailed in the secondary level too. Government secondary schools (including Junior lyceums and the Boys'/girls' secondary schools) registered a considerable decrease in the number of absences per head, down by 2.2 absent days per pupil (from 18.0 in 2003/04 to 15.8 in 2004/05). The average unauthorised absence rate for boys was 11.3 days per pupil and 7.4 days per pupil for authorised absences. The unauthorised absence rate for girls amounted to 7.9 days per pupil, whilst the authorised absence rate was 5.3 days per pupil.

Like the public secondary schools, private secondary schools registered a decrease of 1.2 absent days per pupil over the previous year (from 5.7 to 4.5 absent days per pupil). The unauthorised rate for boys at private secondary level stood at 0.6 days per pupil whilst the authorised rate stood at 3.7 days per pupil. The unauthorised and authorised rates for girls stood at 0.8 and 4.1 days per pupil respectively.

The incidence of absenteeism within private schools both at primary and secondary level, was much lower than in government schools. In fact, in 2004/05 the total overall absence rate stood at 4.8 days per pupil in private schools (0.7 less than in 2003/04) and 11.8 days per pupil within public schools (1.2 less than previous year). Particularly, unauthorised absence rates were reported to be much higher in public schools with 6.3 absent days per pupil as compared to the 0.6 absent days per pupil in private schools. Authorised absence rates were also reported to be higher in the public sector with 5.5 absent days per pupil, against the 4.2 absent days per pupil in private schools.

Also, absence rates in schools varied across the Maltese districts but followed a similar pattern along the three educational sectors - public, church and private. Out of all the public primary schools, the Northern Harbour district registered the highest average number of absent days per pupil (9.3 days) whilst Gozo and Comino registered the lowest number of absent days with 5.6 absent days per pupil. The Northern district registered the highest number of absent days per pupil in private and church primary schools with 5.4 absent days per pupil, whilst Gozo and Comino once again registered the lowest number with 4.3 absent days per pupil.

Secondary schools followed a different pattern from primary across all three sectors. The highest average number of absent days in public secondary schools was registered in the Northern district with 22.8 absent days per pupils; but in private/church secondary schools the highest average number of absent days was registered in the Southern Harbour district with 5.4 absent days per pupil. Gozo and Comino reported once again the lowest number of absent days per pupil, yet this time this was registered in private/church secondary schools only - with 2.4 absent days per pupils. The lowest average number of absent days in public secondary schools was registered in the South Eastern district with 7.5 absent days per pupil.
